Galleria Exhibition A Great Success!

This year's Galleria exposition is one of the most successful that I can remember. It is wonderful to see all three galleries filled with amazing art from our talented members. The Galleria event is a fantastic opportunity to buy one of a kind gifts for your friends and loved ones that will be cherished for years to come. If you aren't familiar with the Galleria event, artists can "rent" a section of wall for their work or participate in a Salon style hanging throughout the Art Center.

Daniele Derenzi in the East Gallery

On Sunday after the opening I took the time to visit and photograph some of the artists and their works.

Debbie Cain, whose photography I have admired for quite some time, was on hand in the Main Gallery with a wonderful presentation of images ranging from landscapes to portraiture. I was able to become more familiar with her excellent photographs during her exhibition at the Mildred Owen Concert Hall, if you haven't yet seen her work you must make a point to visit one of her shows. For more information visit her website at www.debbiecain.com.

Mischa Flores - Odd One Out

In the East Gallery you find our very own Daniele Derenzi. Daniele has always been a driving force behind the scenes of the Art Guild. She is the mastermind behind the Wednesday night artist gatherings as well as the Gallery Store. If I ever needed any help or information Daniele was one of the people I went to first for help. Now let's talk about her wonderful photography and art work! On Daniele's wall you will find a fantastic array of samples of her artistic ability, from photography to painting, collage and even Holiday ornaments. Visit her website at www.danielephotography.com and be sure and check out her blog!

Also in the Main Gallery you will find Pacifica resident Chai Henn. Chai was born and raised in Japan and has received her art education throughout Europe and the United States. On display on her wall you will find a wondrous arrangement of paintings sure to please any art lover. If you aren't able to see her work at this show be sure and try to make it to one of her future exhibits.

Rick Lucia's pen and ink drawings have to be one of my most favorite entries in the Art Guild exhibitions and I am always curious to see what he comes up with next, but besides those delightful drawings, I was first drawn to Rick's photography and I am a big fan of his Instagram feed where you can see many of his works of art as well as a glimpse into his love of cool automobiles, be sure and check out [Instagram.com/suns etslim!](https://www.instagram.com/suns etslim/)

I first became familiar with Khalid Rasool's work during the 57th annual member's show when he won an Award of Merit for a painting titled, "Sixth Street, S.F." Khalid specializes in portraits in oil, where he strives to capture the personality of his subjects. You can keep up with Khalid and his work on his website at www.khalidrasool.com.

Another artist whose work is gracing the walls of the main gallery during this Galleria exhibit is the talented Kelly Page. Kelly's wall is an outstanding example of the passion she holds for her art and you can get a real insight into her mastery of several different mediums. Visit her website at www.kellypage.net.

If you missed this year be sure to mark your calendars for this annual event. M.Risenhoover
